- Windows XP
- Windows Vista
- Windows 7

Overview

Infovox inKey is a USB-based product that provides you with instantaneous access to any computer.

Infovox adds high quality multilingual voice to your computer and, thanks to the built-in quick and smart screenreader, lets you access any computer without need of local installation or administrator rights.

- Portable text to speech solution for your computers at home and at work. Infovox inKey speech empowers your computer with pleasant voices and a powerful text to speech engine, seamlessly integrating with your favorite screen reader through the SAPI interface.
- Portable accessibility solution for when on the move. In addition to the text to speech engine, Infovox inKey includes a quick and smart screen reader that lets you access any computer immediately with no need for local installation or administrator rights.

Infovox inKey will be your travel companion, always ready to let you access any computer, wherever you are. It will carry all your favorite settings with you when moving between computers.

Infovox inKey lets you change the way name and exceptions are pronounced and carry these with you.

Whether you are using your own computer, a friend's computer or a computer in an internet cafe, Infovox inKey will provide you with the key for immediate access.
